About

Kahani's sound can be described as a cinematic soundscape that can often mold into various blends of Electronic and World music. Now residing in New York, he has started a collective, called Nonresident, and imprint label, Indo Warehouse, which curates emerging diaspora talent and gives them a foundation to collaborate on top caliber sound.

In 2019, he played his largest show to date at Terminal 5, New York to over 2,500 people and followed it with an 8-week residency in Tulum, Mexico during the 2020/2021 high season.

Sounds featured by Ebro Darden of Apple Beats 1, Bobby Friction of BBC 1 South Asian Network, Boxout.FM, and top-performing Spotify editorial playlists, such as Desi Hip Hop, Jasmine, No Borders & more.
